KILLED AND MAIMED IN RAILROAD WRECK

A BALTIMORE & OHIO TRAIN DITCHED.

Broken Flange Causes a Serious Accident—Two Passengers Killed and Several Score Injured—Infant Killed In Its Father's Arms—Lighted a Fire With Kerosene.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 4.—The worst railroad wreck in the immediate vicinity of Wheeling for many years occurred shortly before 10 o'clock yesterday morning at Elm Grove, five miles east, on the Pittsburg division of the Baltimore & Ohio road.

The Pittsburg-Cincinnati express, commonly known as the cannon-ball, jumped the track on a bridge over Wheeling creek, owing to a broken flange on a wheel of the smoking car. The engine, tender and baggage car kept the track, while the mail car, smoker and Pullman parlor car went over a bank about sixteen feet high.

So far only two deaths have happened. A woman thought to be Mrs. Miranda Hare of Kittanning, Pa., but not positively identified, owing to the way she was disfigured, jumped from the car and was instantly killed.

The 8-months-old baby of Lawrence Bartley of Allegheny was sitting on its father's lap when the accident occurred. It was so badly injured that it died in a few minutes, while neither father nor mother was hurt.

The exact number of injured is hard to get reliably. Nine were taken to the city hospital and three to the Wheeling hospital, while a number are at houses near the scene of the accident. Ten or a dozen surgeons and the wrecking crew were summoned at once. Not less than 10,000people visited the scene of the wreck, the Wheeling and Elm Grove railroad running special excursion trains, all crowded. Of those who are hurt several will die. The killed:

MRS. MIRANDA HARE, Kittanning, Pa.

EIGHT-MONTH-OLD CHILDof Lawrence Bartley of Allegheny.

The injured, so far as reported:

Ella Vance, Wheeling; spine probably broken; may die.

C. J. Garvey, oil operator, Marietta, Ohio; head crushed and back wrenched; will probably die.

W. N. Rose, Chicago; right arm broken.

Michael J. Mahoney, McKeesport, Pa.; face cut and mashed.

Mrs. M. J. Mahoney, face cut and hip hurt.

E. W. Gilbert, Sharpsburg, Pa.; thigh broken; head cut badly.

J. N. Couchenow, Bellefield, Pa.; left elbow broken.

William Richardson, Sharpsburg, Pa.; cut and bruised back and head.

James W. Foster, Beaver Falls, Pa.; right foot broken; face and back cut.

W. J. Chapman, West Bridgewater, Pa.; right leg and hand broken.

Charles Harkins, Altoona; right temple and scalp cut.

P. R. Rahm, Philadelphia; badly cut and bruised.

George Perkins, conductor Pullman car; head cut, hip bruised.

George Crouse, Allegheny City; scalp wound.

Mrs. George Crouse, knee dislocated.

Mrs. Dr. A. F. Stifel, Pittsburg; slightly hurt.

Jacob Zulauff, Pittsburg; left arm dislocated.

Albert Gaus, Pittsburg; legs cut and bruised.

Richard Gaus, Pittsburg; both legs badly bruised.

Mrs. Watts, Wheeling; elbow dislocated.

Louis Schubert, Pittsburg; head cut and bruised; badly hurt.

Professor J. M. Frasher, principal of Wheeling Business college; head and breast cut and bruised.

W. O. Hawley, Allegheny; face and nose crushed; arm cut.

Mrs. Dixon, Pittsburg; badly cut and back wrenched.

Maud Vance, internal injuries and severe cuts.

Mrs. Malone, Allegheny; head cut; hurt internally.

J. D. Stanton, mail agent; chest, shoulder, and leg cut and bruised.

Mrs. Lejune, Allegheny; forehead crushed.

Perry Parker, colored porter, Pullman car, Cincinnati; cut on face.

Mrs. Clarke, Allegheny; shoulder dislocated.

Mrs. Starr, daughter and granddaughter, painfully cut.

M. Dixon and wife, Pittsburg; painfully cut.

John Renscher, Pittsburg; head and neck cut.

C. M. Kiskaddon, Columbia, Pa., head bruised.

Anthony McTighe, Pittsburg; left leg badly cut.

These names probably do not cover more than half those who were more or less hurt, but able to get away. They scattered almost at once, and cannot nearly all be found. Many of those seriously hurt were able to leave for home.

Railroad Wreck in Texas.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 4.—News was received in the city yesterday of the wreck of the northbound passenger train on the "Katy," at 11 a. m., about four miles north of Waxahatchie. H. E. Smith of this city, who was a passenger on the wrecked train, said: "Owing to a spread rail the engine and four cars were derailed. There immediately arose a cry of distress, mingled with moans, indicating that many of the passengers had been hurt. The engineer, Mike Murphy, was killed, and in all twenty-two people were injured, thirteen of them more or less seriously."

Hurt by a Trolley Car.

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 4.—Six persons were badly hurt and a dozen more or less injured in a trolley-car accident late yesterday afternoon. A wagon loaded with people on their way to a Catholic cemetery memorial was struck by the car. The injured were:

Jacob Kiser; right side crushed in.

Mrs. J. Kiser; hips crushed.

Mrs. Kate Haskins; leg broken; hurt internally.

Fred Baker; left side crushed in.

Mary Mastbaum; ankle broken.

Teresa Kiser; hurt about head and shoulders.

Started a Fire with Kerosene.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Helen Langdorf of 4 Patton street was burned to death yesterday and her husband and children barely escaped from the house, which was destroyed, together with another house adjoining. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed Mrs. Langdorf attempted to start a fire with coal oil and that an explosion resulted.

SHOT HER LOVER.

West Virginia Girl Handles a Pistol with Skill.

Eagle, W. Va., Nov. 4.—One of the most remarkable duels in history occurred here yesterday. Last Wednesday Ervin Hartley saw his sweetheart, Bettie Shields, in the street with another young man, and demanded an explanation. The explanation was given, but it was not satisfactory and he declared he would make trouble for her. Yesterday, after brooding over it for three days, Hartley decided to shoot Miss Shields. He met her on the street and, pulling his pistol, fired. The first bullet cut the skin of Miss Shields' neck, whereupon she pulled a pistol which her brother had lent her and fired three shots, each of them taking effect and making wounds which may result fatally. Hartley fired three more shots at the girl, but none of them took effect. Miss Shields has not been arrested and is not likely to be.

HOLMES FOUND GUILTY.

Convicted of the Murder of Benjamin F. Pitzel.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 4.—Henry H. Holmes was convicted of murder in the first degree at 8:51 o'clock Saturday night for killing Benjamin F. Pitzel. He coughed slightly when he heard the words. That was the only sign. The jury retired to deliberate at 5:40 o'clock in the afternoon. According to one of their number they had reached their verdict before the doors of their room closed upon them. For hunger's sake they ate their supper first. Then they took a ballot and without hesitation every man of the twelve answered "guilty of murder in the first degree." They remained in consultation until nearly 9 o'clock as a matter of sentiment, being unwilling to have it known they had reached a verdict in haste.

Maceo Is Aggressive.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 4.—Passengers arriving from Cuba say fully 5,000 men have joined the insurgents from Matanzas province in the last forty days. Fifteen days ago 250 insurgents concealed themselves in a cemetery on the outskirts of Cardenas, attacking forty passing regulars. The insurgents lost two dead, five wounded; Spanish loss, eight killed, eleven wounded. Letters from Maceo say his headquarters near Santiago are unmolested by the Spaniards. He is on the aggressive.

Whites and Negroes Fight.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 4.—Saturday night, in the outskirts of Clarksville, a mob of negroes attacked four white men, and a general fight ensued. Henry Baker (white), about 60 years old, was stabbed twice, dying instantly. One other white man was stabbed and badly injured. Two negroes were also hurt. Three negroes are in jail, charged with the murder.

American Competition Hurts.

Washington, Nov. 4. — Consul Stephan, writing from Annoberg to the State Department, reports the development of a keen competition in the shoe trade of Berlin due largely to the effort to introduce foreign goods into the market. He says a Boston manufacturer has established a house there, and that the local makers find it hard to compete with the American goods.

Conductor Shot on His Train.

Erie, Pa., Nov. 4.—Richard Barnett,

Erie, Pa., Nov. 5.—Richard Barnett, a Lake Shore and Michigan Southern conductor, was shot last evening by an assassin who lay in ambush. Barnett's train was approaching the city, and he had his head out of the window. The shot struck him above the eye, inflicting a dangerous wound.

Bond Forger Indicted.

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 4.—Among the indictments by the grand jury are fifty-six returned against Zachary T. Lewis, the bond forger, charging forgery of bonds negotiated with banks here. The forged bonds purport to be genuine paper issued by Butler, Adams and Miami counties and by the board of education of Tippecanoe.

THE NEWS BY CABLE FROM OVER THE SEA

ARMENIAN COMMISSION IS APPOINTED.

The Rioting Continued In Many Parts Of Turkey—United States and Great Britain Unite In a Demand for the Protection of Missionaries From the Actions of the Mob.

Constantinople, Nov. 4.—The official announcement of the composition of the Armenian commission of control is as follows: President, Chefik Effendi of the court of appeals; Djemal Bey, manager of the Bank of Agriculture; Caratheodori Effendi and Abdullah Bey, councilors of state; Johanndo Effendi, procurer of the imperial court of accounts; Djelal Bey of the court of appeals; Dilber Effendi, legal councilor to the minister of finance.

Official telegrams received here state that several persons were killed and wounded at Diarbekir on Friday during some riots arising from an Armenian attack upon the mosques.

The American missionaries in Bitlis have again complained to United States Minister Terrell that they are in imminent danger. Mr. Terrell and Michael Herbert, the British charge d'affairs, have therefore again made a demand upon the porte to insure the protection of the Americans.

It is rumored that the Turks are still pillaging the Armenian shops in Erzeroum, where the riots are found to have been more serious than was at first reported. It is now said that 200 corpses have already been counted.

The bourse committee has postponed the settlement for a fortnight and has fixed a compensation rate which reduces the difference payable on account in three of the principal securities. These measures are calming the public feeling.

Captain Lloyd of the steamer which transported the victims has declared at the Austrian consulate that he was an eye-witness of the drowning of the young Turks who were in that way executed for conspiracy.

CAUSES MANY DEATHS.

Yellow Fever and Cholera in Cuba and Japan.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Reports to the Marine Hospital service show the continued prevalence of yellow fever at Havana. There were 160 cases and 43 deaths from the disease from October 10 to 24. A large percentage of the deaths are in the military hospitals. During the week ending October 24, out of 23 deaths, 13 were soldiers in the hospitals.

The ravages of cholera in Japan are shown in the abstract of cases and deaths up to September 12. The main points of the outbreak are Osaka, 6,505 cases, 4,618 deaths; Hiago, 3,430 cases, 2,523 deaths; Hiroshima, 3,624 cases, 2,664 deaths; Kanagawa, 2,029 cases, 1,178 deaths; Tokio, 2,008 cases, 1,301 deaths; Kioto, 1,689 cases, 1,309 deaths; Nagasaki, 1,610 cases, 1,103 deaths; Miyagi, 1,470 cases, 869 deaths; Tattori, 1,014 cases, 659 deaths; Yamaguchi, 1,993 cases, 1,385 deaths; Yehime, 1,226 cases, 816 deaths; Fukuka, 1,877 cases, 1,143 deaths.

DECLINE TO STRIKE.

Montana Employes of the Great Northern Railway Remain at Work.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 4.—It was announced Saturday night that a general strike would go into effect on the Great Northern at 12 o'clock on account of the refusal of President Hill to meet the mediation committee at St. Paul. Investigation proved that a strike was ordered to take effect at that hour, but the employes of the Montana Central have refused to take any part in the trouble and they have announced that they will not strike under any consideration. There will be no strike on the Great Northern in Montana. If there is to be any trouble it will be confined to the main line east of Minot. The local railroad men have decided not to stand by the American Railway union if ordered to strike. They have no grievance, and so answered the notice received from St. Paul.

Fastest Railroad Time on Record.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 4.—The Sunset limited left New Orleans Thursday morning, October 31, with a full complement of passengers, arriving at Los Angeles Saturday, on the dot, traversing the distance in two days, nine hours and forty-five minutes. San Francisco was reached on time, in three days, two hours and forty-five minutes, the fastest time ever made in the history of railroads over an equal distance.

Ex-Gov. Beveridge Improving.

Sandwich, Ill., Nov. 4.—Ex-Governor Beveridge continues to improve, though he is in such a weak condition a change for the worse is possible at any time. He converses rationally, his mind seems as clear as at any time, and he begins to take more nourishment. The ex-governor lies in a drowsy state, sleeping lightly much of the time.

German Sentry Shoots a Civilian.

Koenigsberg, Germany, Nov. 4.—A party of civilians insulted and stoned a sentry at the pioneer barracks yesterday. The sentry thereupon fired upon and killed one and severely wounded another of the party.

AN IOWA VILLAGE SWEPT BY FLAMES

TOWN OF ARCADIA IS COMPLETELY DESTROYED.

The Loss Is Heavy and Only Partly Covered By Insurance—Wolcott Mills, Minn., Is Also Laid Waste—Loss Estimatsd at $150,000—Fires at Other Points.

Arcadia, Iowa, Nov. 4.—Fire visited Arcadia last night and only one store is left in town. The flames burned over an area of four acres, consuming six residences, the hotels, opera house, one livery barn, one harness shop, two grain elevators, one lumber and coal yard and barber shop, postoffice, two drug stores, two saloons, three general merchandise stores, one furniture store, one hardware store, one butcher shop, one vacant storeroom, one boot and shoe store, and four barns. The estimated loss is $55,000, partly covered by insurance.

LIVES LOST AT NEW YORK.

Fire in a Sweat-Shop Building Results Fatally.

New York, Nov. 4.—Several lives were lost in the fire which started about 1 o'clock yesterday morning on the second floor of the six-story brick building at 7 Pelham street, owned by Well & Meyer and used as a sweat-shop. Three charred bodies were taken from the ruins, and one man, who jumped to save his life, was so injured that he died in Gouverneur hospital. List of the dead:

JACOB SHAPTRO, watchman; found in the ruins; 45 years old.

ISAAC PENSON, found in the ruins.

UNKNOWN MAN, found in the ruins.

MORRIS DIRSCHAUER, 40, who jumped from a second-story window and died in Gouverneur hospital of a fractured skull.

The buildings burned were filled with sweat-shops and several watchmen and others slept there—how many cannot be told yet. Two of these people were Dirschauer, who died in Gouverneur hospital, and Samuel Ischowitz, janitor of 7. They jumped from windows to save themselves. Ischowitz is still in the hospital with both legs broken. After the flames had been extinguished, because there was little more to burn, a search was begun for the dead. The loss on each building is estimated at $15,000, while the loss to the different tenants is thought to be about $500 each, making a total of about $75,000.

TWO STRUCTURES LEFT.

Town of Walcott Mills, Minn., Practically Destroyed by Fire.

Faribault, Minn., Nov. 4.—The town of Walcott Mills, Rice county, with the exception of two dwellings, was wiped out by a conflagration that began at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The fire departments of both Faribault and Northfield were called out, but owing to a high wind neither was able to check the flames to any extent. The chief loss was the mills of Sheffield Bros., valued at $150,000, with insurance of but $81,000. Fourteen buildings were consumed, including the mills, an elevator, an engine house, a bran feed house, five dwellings, a large boarding house, a packing house, a cooper house, office building, and several barns. The mills were the best equipped of any in Southern Minnesota. They were 20,000 barrels behind their orders and employed nearly 100 men. They will be rebuilt.

Ohio Sanitarium Burned.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 4.—The Oak Ridge Sanitarium at Green Spring, Ohio, a four-story brick structure, 100 feet square, was destroyed by fire at 5 o'clock yesterday. The forty-eight guests, most of whom were invalids, all escaped, many of them having to be carried from the burning building. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $40,000, with an insurance of $10,000. The building was owned by Johnson & Cobb, of this city, the proprietors.

Fire in a Pennsylvania Mine.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 4.—A spark from the pipe which an employe was smoking set fire to the hay in the mule stable in the Dorrance mine Saturday night. The stable is 600 feet below the surface. An alarm was sounded and a large number of miners fought the fire all night. It was not gotten under control until 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Eighteen mules perished, and other property to the value of $10,000 was destroyed.

Grain Elevator Destroyed.

Wenona, Ill., Nov. 4.—The grain elevator at Garfield, five miles east of here on the Alton, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning was found to be on fire and all efforts to save the structure proved futile. It was valued at $6,000 and owned by Gants Bros., of this city. In addition to the building 25,000 bushels of shelled corn and 20,000 bushels of oats were consumed. Gants Bros. carried $4,000 insurance on the elevator and $2,000 on the grain.

Prairie Fires Threaten a Town.

Whiting, Ind., Nov. 4.—The prairie fires which have been burning south of here for the last two weeks have finally reached the border of this place, and have been raging on the south edge of town, in the district known as Robertsdale, and about the Sheffield race track.

At noon yesterday the alarm of fire was given and the Whiting, North Hammond and Standard Oil company's fire departments were called out. Two thousand acres between here and Hammond have been burned. Much of this territory is a kind of peat and is still burning. At one time it seemed that the entire town of Robertsdale, with the Sheffield racing property, would be destroyed. The flames swept upon the fences and outhouses back of the first row of houses on the edge of town, burning them, and firing several cottages, but the combined efforts of the departments saved the cottages and fought the flames back.

Attempt to Burn a Children's Home.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 4.—The police are puzzled over attempts of incendiaries to destroy the Speed Home for Infants in this city. The building was set on fire three times Saturday and four times yesterday. Some of the attendants say they saw a man looking from an attic window, but all attempts to discover the person have failed. There are twenty-three children in the home and the attendants are in a state of panic.

Lumber Burned at Alpena, Mich.

Alpena, Mich., Nov. 4.—The lumber on Churchill Mill dock was found to be on fire at 6:30 o'clock last night. The fire department and three tugs finally got the fire under control, although at one time it looked as though 10,000,000 feet of lumber and the Churchill mill would go. About 1,000,000 feet of lumber and 1,000,000 of lath have been destroyed. The loss is $25,000; insured for about one-third.

Ontario Town Burned.

Cornwall, Ont., Nov. 4.—Half the village of Lancaster, a short distance from this town, was wiped out of existence by fire yesterday. The loss, including all the principal stores, hotels, and many private residences, amounts to $50,000, with about $10,000 insurance.

Small Fire at Winimac, Ind.

Winimac, Ind., Nov. 4.—Fire at 8:30 last evening destroyed the Holsinger Block and Wharton's photograph gallery. The loss is $6,000. The Holsinger building carried $1,000 insurance in the Germania and $1,000 in the Home.

SET FIRE TO THE JAIL.

Incredible Act of Fanaticism Reported from Mexico.

Pachhuca, Mexico, Nov. 4.—News comes from Texacapa, a small town inhabited by Indians and mestizos (half-breeds), that ten persons were burned there as heretics by order of the auxiliary town judge. He claims he was acting according to the will of God, manifested to him in an extraordinary vision, accompanied by certain indications of divine wrath against heretics and people leading immoral lives.

The auxiliary judge said: "I obeyed the divine command and ordered out my alguaycildes (constables), and we took these sinners from their beds and dragged them in the darkness of night, weeping and wailing, to the jail. When they were locked securely in I ordered the alguaycildes to set the building on fire."

Twenty-one arrests were made, although the fanatical mob threatened death to the authorities. The prisoners, securely bound around the arms and chained together, were marched to Mollango, where a judicial investigation will take place. The whole population of Texacapa appears gone mad. All believe the auxiliary judge was commissioned by the Almighty and the saints to destroy evil-doers. They point to the pile of bones on which they profess to see miraculously traced outline forms of the saints who, on advising the judge to burn the heretics, left their images. The community is nothing but an open-air madhouse.

JAPAN'S COREAN POLICY.

Official Declaration Made to the United States.

Washington, Nov. 4.—A precise definition of the designs of Japan respecting Corea has been obtained at last by all of the powers concerned, for it is assumed that the following cablegrom, which was handed to Secretary Olney Thursday by Mr. Kurino, the Japanese minister here, has been also sent to all of the Japanese legations in Europe:

"Japanese troops are now stationed in Corea to insure tranquility, as well as to protect our legation, consulates and subjects, and also to maintain the indispensable lines of communication with our army, which is still in occupation of Liao Tung Peninsula. The necessity of keeping such troops will, however, cease at the same time with the evacuation of Liao Tung Peninsula, and so much of the troops will then be withdrawn from Corea. In our relation with Corea the policy of our government is one of noninterference, and our government will gladly share equally with other powers in the same line of action."

Rumored Lynching in Arkansas.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 4.—It is reliably reported here that a man named Albert England was lynched at Vilonia, Ark., Saturday night. It is impossible to obtain particulars, Vilonia being several miles in the interior, with no telegraph communication.

Princeton Defeats Harvard.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 4.—Princeton "tigers" downed Harvard Saturday afternoon by the score of 12 to 4 in one of the pluckiest battles ever fought on a football field.

A BIG CLAIM FILED AGAINST AN ESTATE

SUPERIOR MAN SAYS $114,000 IS DUE HIM.

Titus J. Fish Says That He Should Have That Amount Out of the Property of O. R. Johnson of Racine—German Lutherans Celebrate an Anniversary at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Nov. 4—[Special]—Titus G. Fish filed a claim in the county court this morning against the estate of the late O. R. Johnson for one hundred and fourteen thousand dollars. He claims he had contracts with the deceased for that amount. Fish lives at Superior and was interested in the LaBelle wagon works.

Lutherans Celebrate.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 4.—The 375th anniversary of the founding of Lutheranism was celebrated by the adherents of that creed at the exposition building yesterday, and at the same time a monstrous religious celebration to commemorate the semi-centennial of the incorporation of the city was held. There were over 12,000 present. The addresses were delivered by the Revs. H. Sieck and John Bading. A chorus of 2,000 school children furnished the vocal music.

MAY BE INNOCENT.

Centralia, Ill., Murder Mystery Develops New Features.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Nov. 4.—Ten years ago Alexander McClelland and son disappeared suddenly from Centralia, Ill. A short time ago the skeletons of an old and a young man corresponding to the two missing ones were found near the residence of the older son near Centralia.

The latter was arrested and is now on trial charged with the murder of his father and brother. The attorneys for the defense have written District Clerk Howdbert of this city that a slight clew which is believed to be reliable locates the supposed murdered ones in El Paso county, where they had taken a ranch in 1885. The matter is being thoroughly investigated in the belief that an innocent man on trial for his life may be justly acquitted.

MAY KISS AND MAKE UP.

Reconciliation Between William K. Vanderbilt and His Wife.

New York, Nov. 4.—It is said that W. K. Vanderbilt has seized the coming marriage of his daughter as an opportunity to begin the preliminaries to a reconciliation with his wife. Miss Vanderbilt herself, so it is said, is much inclined to act as mediator, being prompted thereto by her father. Matters incidental to the coming union have necessitated several interviews between Mrs. Vanderbilt and the man whose name she bears. These meetings, it is said, were the beginning of Mr. Vanderbilt's efforts toward a reunion. It is further added that Mrs. Vanderbilt has not exhibited determined opposition to a discussion of the situation.

End of Prize-Fight Fiasco.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 4.—Excitement over the prize-fight question has entirely died out and things have settled down to a normal condition. Bob Fitzsimmons spent yesterday with a party of local admirers and in the evening went to the union station in company with a party of newspaper men to meet the cannonball from Hot Springs, on which Corbett was expected to arrive. A large crowd followed him, probably in the anticipation of an impromptu set-to, but Corbett was not on the train, and had he been trouble would hardly have occurred, as Fitzsimmons was in a most happy mood. Corbett and party left Hot Springs at 8 o'clock last evening en route to Memphis. Fitzsimmons' movements are uncertain.

Fight at a Political Meeting.

Smith's Grove, Ky., Nov. 4.—Saturday night the democrats held a rally at the Shady Grove schoolhouse, which was interrupted by outsiders. The confusion became so great that Chairman Hall was obliged to adjourn the meeting. A general fight ensued, in which Hall was shot in the head and badly beaten. He may recover. John M. Harvey was fatally shot. John G. Franklin was clubbed into unconsciousness, and others were badly bruised. Politics is said to have been the cause of the attack. The officers have not been able to capture any of the men as yet.

May Make a New Territory.

South Macalester, I. T., Nov. 4.—The Dawes and Choctaw commissions have met and adjourned with no better understanding than before the meeting. The Dawes commission has returned to Fort Smith and will soon return to Washington to make its report, which will undoubtedly be adverse to the present tribal relationship. It is reported the commission will recommend the formation of a territorial form of government, the territory to be controlled exclusively by agents appointed by the United States government.

Will Not Recall De Lome.

Madrid, Nov. 4.—The report that Dupuy De Lome is to be recalled from Washington is pronounced untrue. The statement is given out that the government is thoroughly satisfied with his services.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING IS ALL PAID FOR

MONEY WAS RAISED DURING THE "CAMPAIGN."

Ladies Got Nearly $500 and the Balance Was Subscribed at the Union Meeting at the Congregational Church Last Evening—Stirring Speeches Made.

The fight is ended.

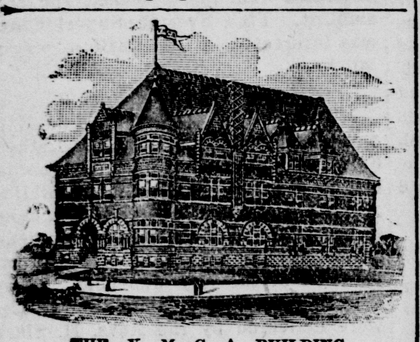
The Y. M. C. A is the winner.

The building—the handsomest in the state—is paid for.

The work of months and years is accomplished.

And 'tis well.

The work was begun last Monday morning and there was no let up until last night. The local pastors preached on the subject at their morning services, and urged their congregacions to attend the union meeting at the Congregational church last evening. And their advice was heeded.



THE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

All the people who could elbow their way into the big building were there.

And those who couldn't get in stood in the hallway and listened.

It was a magnificent audience—they came full of enthusiasm—and they brought their pocketbooks with them.

Until 9 o'clock ringing addresses filled the air. Then H. J. Cunningham read his report.

Only $1,180 was needed, he said.

Then State Secretary F. E. Anderson of Milwaukee, stepped forward and appealed to the audience for help.

There Was no Limit.

"There is no limit to the sum you can give, be it large or small," he said. "How much can we count on you for?"

"$20" replied a man in the audience.

The announcement seemed to cause contagion, and soon six others had given the same sum. Cards were passed about through the audience and soon they were being handed back in a regular flood. The amounts written on them ranged from $1 to $10. Cash contributions were also made and soon the table of the secretary was laden with cash and subscriptions.

"Now we will figure it up" said Mr. Anderson.

$980 95 was the sum total.

Then a man from Olinton came to the rescue and contributed handsomely. Another man from the same village said hewould raise $50.

"All who can give $1 stand up" said John M. Whitehead.

Sixty responded and after the cards had been passed again the total was within $80 of the required sum. Then President Loomis announced that the board of directors would raise that.

I'll make up thirty dollars of it" said ex-alderman C. D. Child.

"The building will open" said President Loomis and a cheer went up from the audence.

The last cent had been raised.

The singing was led by Archie Crawford, and the city pastors occupied seats on the platform. The opening prayer was given by Rev. A. Porter, while Rev. S. P. Wilder pronounced the benediction. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra augmented the musical part of the services, and the choir was reenforced by several extra singers.

RINGING ADDRESSES MADE.

Eloquence Stirred the Audience and Made the Money Pour Forth.

The speeches that had preceded the taking of the collection were of the ringing kind, and awakened the people to a sense of their duty. Attorney A. E. Matheson was the first speaker. Every human being, he said, was created for some definate object, but what then was their duty as citizens?

"Count the dens of infamy in this town" he continued. "We want to open a building that will overcome their influenee. Think what it means for a soul to go wrong. One man on the right track will lead others. We cannot escape responsibility. We are called upon to do what we can." Mr Matheson closed with an appeal to the business men, and his address made a deep impression on the audience.

E. B. Smith's Address.

Edwin Burrett Smith followed Mr. Matheson. He said the opening of the building was of more than local interest; Janesville had joined in a work of world wide importance. He gave facts and figures about the movement, and said that fifty per cent. of the college students of the country were members of the association. Janesville had done exceptionally well during the financial depression, he continued.

"You have done much but there is still much to do" he insisted: "The best way for you business men to show your interest in the welfare of the young men, is open to that building. One of the best features of this work is the opportunity it gives for christian effort. It should be the pride of the city to raise men."

Captain Edward Ruger's Talk.

The earnest, common sense talk that Captain Edward Ruger gave, did much to awaken the audience to the good they might do. The object of the meeting was to take hold of the work, he said. He could see men in the audience who took great pride in doing anything that they undertook, and he reminded them that this was a good cause to take hold of.

"Is there anything too good for your children?" he asked. "The measure of your love for them is the sacrifices you will make. I ask you again, fathers and mothers if there is any sacrifice that you will not make for their good? Shall it be said that we are going to drop this work while men in an evil business pay $25,000 a year for the right to carry on their infamous trade? Let it not be said that such is the case."

State Secretary Talks.

State Secretary F. E. Anderson was then introduced. He complimented the citizens on the work they had done, and made an appeal to them to do more.

"Janesville is the best city in the country," he said, "and I come here to get inspiration. I do not know of a city in the state that would turn out as large an audience as this, and one that would stay as long when they knew they were to be asked for money."

Mr. Anderson's address was full of bright sayings that caused the audience to smile. In closing he made his appeal to them to contribute and the raising of the money followed.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The Work Was Outlined From Its Beginning Up to The Present Time.

The report of the secretary of the board of directors, H. J. Cunningham, followed Attorney Matheson's address. He told about the early work, etc., and said that up to a week ago the association needed $1,600 to complete the conditions that would result in the opening of the edifice. The ladies had canvassed the city and done it thoroughly and well.

The total amouut raised by them in the various wards, was $359.53, his report giving the following figures:

Amount raised in the wards	$359 53
Amount raised by the sale of coffee, etc. in building	63 67
Amount raised in pledges	30 75
Total	$453 95

GENERAL STANDING.

Subscriptions, conditional	$6,950 00
Subscriptions good, not conditional	2,000 00
Total good subscriptions	$8,050 00
Cash on hand or in the bank	1,130 00
Total	$9,180 00

LIABILITIES.

Total contracts, etc	10,360 00
Amount to be raised	1,180 00

Another $25 Draft.

W. H. Rose received a letter from Franklin McVeagh & Co., this morning enclosing a draft for $25 to be given to the Y. M. C. A. The letter said that this was the second donation made by the firm, but since Janesville people were so interested in the project, they would make another and that they hoped the money would be raised.

RS. ASH TO SING IN "SAID PASHA"

THE JANESVILLE SOPRANO HERE THIS EVENING.

The Opera House Will Doubtless Be Filled to the Doors This Evening In Consequence—"Our Flat" a Fine Comedy—"Finnegan's Ball" Comes Next.

The Calhoun Opera Company, which so thoroughly pleased the average Janesville theatre goers last season, is now called the Columbia Opera Company and has for prima donna soprano is Ada Holdredge Ash, a lady well and favorably known by all residents of Janesville. The lady is a native of this city and has many relatives and friends who will no doubt give her an enthusiastic welcome when the organization appears at the Myers opera house this evening.

ADA HOLDREDGE ASH.

But Few Saw a Fine Comedy

An audience of beggarly proportions witnessed the production of "Our Flat" at the Myers Grand Saturday although it was one of the best comedies of the season. The company headed by Miss Emily Bancker, was an exceptionally well balaneed one, and and the play itself was laughable in the extreme. It was a really fine attraction and should have had a packed house.

Finnegan's Ball.

One of the best things that has ever been written in the line of farce-comedy is "Finnegan's Ball." It is an exceedingly clever burlesque, farce and comedy combined, and is immeasurably superior to many of the successful farce comedies on the road. A brainy man worked over it as the result well shows.

Everything from technique to suspense and climax is well planned and equally well executed, and taken in its entirety makes a most excellent and entertaining piece. Murray & Mack, the Irish comedians, who do everything well, appear in the leading parts of Connor Casey and Timothy Finnegan, and their interpretations show a careful study and keen appreciation of the author's lines. The supporting sompany are all well known artists, and their specialties are new, novel, and strictly up to date. This excellent company comes on Wednesday, November 6.

THE NEWS NOTES OF THE TOWN

READ Winslow's shoe ad in this evening's paper. Then go and see him Wednesday.

WE show great values in table linens and napkins. We are headquarters for these lines. Bort, Bailey & Co.

OUR chenille table covers with fringe all around, at 79 cents are great values for the money. Bort, Bailey & Co.

LOOK all over town for underwear, and then buy our natural wool garments at 75 cents each. They are better than most of them sell at $1 and $1.25 each garment. T. J. Zeigler.

THE grocery clerk's sixth annual masquerade ball will be given at Concordia hall November 19. Smith's full orchestra will play. Ladies tickets cost 15 cents. A good time is guaranteed to all who attend.

THE popular business suit for the everyday business man, laborer or mechanic are our "Good Luck" guaranteed all wool suits that we are selling at $6 50. $8 and $10. Have you seen them? Zeigler.

FORGET that old chesnut that it is hard times and bring in th eboys this week and look over our new line of children's nobby suits from three to eight years. You can surely buy one F. H. Baack.

DON'T spend all the money on yourself but save a little for the little ones and a good way to please a boy is buy a new suit and overcoat such as we are showing and get a new solid sled as a gift. Every boy will soon need a sled. F. H. Baack.

SAY, why don't you try Dewitts Little Early Risers? These little pills cure headache, indigestion and constipation. They're small but do the work. C. D. Setvens

INGALLS IS NOT COMING HERE.

The Ex-Senator is Suffering With a Severe Throat Difficulty.

John J. Ingalls who was to have opened the People's Lecture course fat the Congregational church Tuesday evening of this week telegraphed the management yesterday that he would be unable to come on account of sickness. The lecture will be delivered in the early part of December by Mr. Ingalls, the exact nate not having been decided on.

The course will now be opened with the Redpath grand concert, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 27.

REGULAR meeting of the common council.

JANESVILLE Lodge No. 55, F. & A. M. special.

THE Columbia Opera Company at the opera house.

MONTHLY meeting of the Business Men's Association.

THE Blind Boone Concert company at the Congregational church.

Children's Department.

There is one thing we have always tried to do, and that is, keep the best assortment of boys' and children's suits and overcoats to be found in the city, and this fall is no exception; for we have just received our second large shipment from Ederheimer, Stien & Co., of Chicago, and they are away up on style, quality and workmanship, and they cost no more than poor, shoddy makes. The sleds are going fast with each suit. Frank H. Baack.

6,500 Pair of Shoes at $1 a Pair.

In another part of the paper will be found the shoe announcement of F. S Winslow. He has purchased 6,505 pairs of the Lowell shoe stock and offers them Wednesday morning at his River street store, your pick for $1 each. This is the greatest shoe bargain yet offered to the people. The shoes are all right in every way and the run of the lot is yours for $1 a pair. F. S. Winslow.

There Are Men.

And then you will find others who wear nothing but high-grade and naturally the price is a little in advance of the common shoes. We have just those shoes for those men and flatter ourselves that we have the finest assortment of high class shoes ever brought to the city to make selections from. Those enamel and patent leather needle toe shoes are particularly pretty, gentlemen. Richardson Shoe Co.

Outing Flannels

We have just placed on sale fifty pieces of heavy, soft outing flannels in both dark and light colors, to sell at the popular price, 6¼ cents per yard. These flannels are well worth 8 cents, and at this price, 6¼ cents, we expect to close them out in a week. Bort, Bailey & Co.

10 Dozen Mrs. Potts.

We have ten dozen sets Mrs. Potts sad irons that will go at 69 cents as before. This will be the last chance of buying them at that price on account of rise on the wholesale cash. Better buy while they last. Lowell Hardware Co.

Hosiery

In hosiesy we have laid in a very complete line of all wool and fleece lined for men, women and children. Our ladies fleece lined at 25 cents is extra long and fine and full regular made. Bort, Bailey & Co.

Second Hand But Good.

We have one square splendid late pattern in excellent condition for $22.00 Also one extra large Garland base burner in very good shape ask only $18.00 for. They are both bargains. Lowell Hardware Co.

Rhine Stone Buttons.

We have just received about fifty styles of large fancy, rhine stone buttons in gold, silver and other colors. They are the very latest productions in this line and are very popular for dress trimmings. Bort, Bailey & Co.

For Sale Cheap.

My house, barn, and four full lots on Hickory street, just off Fourth avenue. Will make it a bargain to some one. Enquire at Gazette office.

CONDENSED CYCLING CHAT.

A bicycle lawn mower is the latest thing in the cycling line.

The Royal Arcanum Wheelmen of Brooklyn have 61 active riders.

The police authorities of Washington are about to mount their roundsmen on bicycles.

A bicycle makers' union has been formed in Chicago by workmen who construct wheels.

Charley Murphy is the oldest rider on the circuit. He is 31 years old, but is riding pretty close to two minutes in all his races lately.

F. J. Titus, in his recent ten mile record breaking race at Manhattan Beach, averaged 2 minutes 5 4-5 seconds for every mile.

"When Trilby Rides a Wheel," "The Girl With Bloomers On" and "Her Bloomers Are Camphored Away" are the titles of three "musical compositions" which have been recently copyrighted.

The "Husband Neck."

Brooklyn Life has discovered that the "husband neck" is the latest cycling affliction. This strange malady is caused by the constant craning of the neck, generally to the left, to see if the wife of one's bosom is safe. Even after the husband has found that his wife has really become a skilled rider the habit remains. He can no more help turning his head at short intervals than he can help imagining that all sorts of dire disasters are befalling her.

Cycling and Matrimony.

It is now proclaimed that the statistical average of marriages is threatened with diminution It will require better testimony than is yet offered to convince anybody of this. Bicycling is favorable to romance and promotes courtship. Many a youth has proposed on his wheel who would not have had the courage to do so on foot or skates or horseback.—New York Tribune.

To Steady the Nerves

is a task to the accomplishment of which narcotics and sedatives are inadequate. The effect they produce is paralytic. They destroy sensation without benefitting the nerves. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the contrary, strengthens and soothes the nervous system. Overwork and mental anxiety weaken and relax it, and there is no more reliable means of bracing it and restoring nerve quietude, than by reinforcing digestion and promoting assimilation of the food—two effects always consequent upon the use of the great stomachic. Failing strength is recuperated, a regular habit of blood restored, and appetite improved by the Bitters. Disease must be regarded as an exceptionally remote possibility by any one whose system has been thus reinforced. Malarial disease, constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism and kidney troubles are overcome by and prevented by this standard medicine, which has no peer among American tonics, and is in constantly increasing demand in Mexico, the West Indies and South Indies.

Cotton States and International Exposition at Atlanta, Ga.

For the above event the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway will sell excursion tickets from Sept 15 to Dec. 31, 1895, good for return until and including Jan. 7, 1896. The rate of round trip will be 75 per cent. of double lowest first class fare.

A. G. Bartley of Magic, Pa., writes: "I feel it a duty of mine to inform you and the public that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of a very bad case of eczema. It also cured my boy of a running sore on his leg." C. D. Stevens.

Reduced Rates to Atlanta.

On account of the Cotton States and International Exposition at Atlanta, Ga., the Northwestern line is now selling excursion tickets at reduced rates. For tickets and full information apply to agents, Chicago & Northwestern R'y.

WAS AN IDEAL DAY FOR CYCLING

Janesville Wheelmen Took Spins on the Road Yesterday.

Five members of the Rockford Cycling club left the Forest City yesterday at 9:30, arriving in Janesville at 12:30. The party was composed of L. L. Miller, F. J. Hinckley, H. Needham, A. Burr and D. McPherson. A tandem was ridden by Burr and McPherson, who set a merry pace all the way up. After dinner at the Hotel Myers, the party left at 2:15 on the return trip, and at 4 o'clock, when they were met by two local cyclers, they had covered but eight miles as the wind was blowing a gale.

A local cycler reports having struck a four weeks' old pig, just out of town yesterday, and the pig is no more.

Three members of the Arrow Cycling club left the city Saturday morning at 10:30, just for a day's spin which wound up with a 110 mile ride. The party was composed of W. M. Pfennig, Charles Reynolds and A. Wheeler. They took in the towns of Edgerton, Jefferson, Jefferson Junction and Watertown, arriving home at 10:15 in the evening.

J. G. DeLong took a trip to Beloit yesterday on his wheel, making the distance of fourteen miles in two hours against the wind. Coming back with the wind in his favor, he came across the prairie road in fifty minutes.

The healing properties of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve are well known. It cures eczema, skin affections and is simply a perfect remedy for piles. C D. Stevens.

The Submarine Detector.

When the sinker trailed at the bottom of the sea approaches a mass of metal—a lost anchor, a parted iron chain, a broken telegraph cable; still more, a sunken ironclad—the electric indicator in the mahogany case on shipboard sounds more or less loudly, according to the nearness of the sinker to the submerged mass, and so the position of the latter can be pretty accurately ascertained before divers are sent down.

Much time wasted in painful gropings in the dark by the divers under the special difficulties of their condition may thus be avoided. The submarine detector was primarily designed to enable warships to discover anchored torpedoes, and the connection established by the sinker was intended also to serve as a means of firing in safety a torpedo discovered by the "detector."—Chambers' Journal.

It's just as easy to try One Minute Cough Cure as anything else. It's easier to cure a severe cough or cold with it. Let your next purchase for a cough be One Minute Cough Cure. Better medicine; better results; better try it. C. D. Stevens.

Eighteenth Century Children.

A book published in 1726 lays down rules for children's behavior and gives an idea of what was considered proper deportment for boys and girls in the early part of the last century. First, of behavior at home. Children must always bow on returning home; they must never be covered in the house; they must not sit down without permission; they must never address their parents without a title of respect, as sir or madam; they must not approach their parents or elders without a bow. Next, of behavior at table. They must not sit down till they are bidden, nor till grace is said, nor must they ask for anything, or help themselves, or speak at table, or look at others eating. Thirdly, of behavior in company. They must enter the room with a bow; they must not speak till they are spoken to; they are not to cross their legs or sit with their knees wide; they are not to laugh loud, but silently smile; they are not to point or boast or to interrupt.

Imagine an American youth of today "silently smiling" if anything struck him as being funny and think of our infant terribles waiting until they are spoken to before they address their elders. It is just as well that the good old author of this book is dead; he would be made so dreadfully unhappy by this century's children.—Chicago Post.

"Auld Lang Syne."

"Auld Lang Syne" is of uncertain origin, there being several versions of this deservedly popular song. One of the best is by Burns, but only the second and third stanzas are by this poet, the remainder being from the pen of Ramsay. The song is of uncertain antiquity. One version is dated 1716. Another is said to date from the sixteenth century.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth

Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for children. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

There are many good reasons why you should use One Minute Cough Cure. There are no reasons why you should not, if in need of help. The only harmless remedy that produce immediate results. C. D. Stevens.

HOG CHOLERA IS STILL RAGING

Dreaded Disease Making Inroads on the County's Herds of Swine.

Hog cholera still seems to hold its own in this county. In the town of Janesville numerous losses have been reported. At the farm of Patrick Sennett eight of the animals are left to remind him that he owned a flock of thirty-two. Besides Mr. Sennett's loss, the hogs have dissappeared from the farms of D. Gunn and Charles Downing.

It is a truth in medicine that the smallest dose that performs a cure is the best. De Witt's Little Early Risers are the smallest pills, will perform a cure, and are the best. C. D. Stevens.

MIMICRY AND REASON.

Indication That This Monkey Is Endowed with a Share.

"That the monkey possesses intelligence to a considerable degree is probably true," said a hotel proprietor who has a small menagerie on his premises. "I believe, however, much of the intelligence with which that animal is credited is due to his love of mimicry or imitation.

"The other day two young men with two girls were at the monkey's cage feeding him peanuts. One of the girls was chewing gum, and one of the men suggested that she give the monkey some, expecting that if he took it in his mouth it would stick to his teeth and he would make sorry work of trying to chew it. The girl at once parted with the sweet morsel she was so industriously chewing, extending it toward the cage. The monkey grabbed it instantly and put it into his mouth, but instead of chewing it, or attempting to, began pulling it out in small ribbons, as children are frequently seen to do. When he had it all out of his mouth he rolled it into a compact ball between his hands, threw it into his mouth and began the operation again. He appeared to enjoy the performance as much as his visitors. That was imitation."

"That's all right," rejoined another, "but I had an experience with that same monkey wherein he displayed intelligence. I was by the cage smoking one day, and thought to annoy him by blowing smoke in his face. I was much surprised to find that instead of being annoyed he enjoyed it, as was evidenced by his edging up as near me as possible to receive the smoke in larger volumes. Soon he began scratching himself at the point where most of the smoke came against him. When I had smoked one side for a few minutes, he would turn squarely round to have the other side treated in the same way. Then he sat up directly in front of me and received the smoke squarely in the face and neck. I don't know whether he held his breath, but he did not cough, sneeze, or wince a particle. To complete the job he then sat with his back toward me, and it would have done you good to have seen him throw his hind feet over his back and scratch. It made me think of the kickers of a hay tedder in motion. Now that monkey knew, through some sort of intelligence, that nothing will send fleas and other insects to the surface or stupefy them as effectively as tobacco smoke."—Ex.

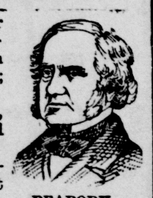
THIS DAY IN HISTORY



PEABODY.

1702—Admiral Benbow, father of the British navy, celebrated in the wars with France, died in Jamaica; born 1650.

1771—James Montgomery, Scotch poet, born; died 1854.

1790—Lopez, the ruler of Paraguay, who opened that country to foreign trade, born at Asuncion; died 1861. Lopez had an adventurous career until he reached the age of 50. He passed many years in hiding to escape the persecutions of the dictator, Dr. Francia. After Francia's death he succeeded in getting control of the government and ruled arbitrarily, yet without oppression or cruelty. He gradually opened up the country to foreign trade and immigration, made treaties, laid the foundations of a strong military power, including forts, arsenals and a navy, built railroads and provided for the education of youth in the best foreign mechanical and scientific schools. At the same time he involved his country in many grave disputes with foreign governments.

1794—Massacre of 30,000 Poles of all ages by the order of the Russian general Suvoroff.

1816—Stephen Johnson Field, associate justice of the United States supreme court, born in Haddam, Conn.

1847—Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, musical composer, died in Leipsic; born in Hamburg 1809.

1856—Paul Delaroche, the painter, died in Paris; born 1795.

1869—George Peabody, the American philanthropist, died in London; born in Danvers, Mass., 1795.

When Help Was Needed.

"Oh, do come and help!" gasped a boy who ran up to a policeman; "there is an awful fight going on in our street!"

"Who's fighting?"

"My father and another man."

"How long have they been at it?"

"Oh, half an hour."

"But why didn't you come and tell me about it before?"

"Why, because dad was getting the best of it up to ten minutes ago."—Pittsburgh Bulletin.

He Had Raised Many Families.

The elevator boy in the big flat was airing his views to a passenger on the proper conduct of children.

"What do you know about it?" laughed the passenger. "You're not married, are you?"

"Well, no," replied the boy, "but I've brought up a great many families in my time," and then he gazed up the elevator with a rapturous expression.—Denver Catholic.

Reassuring.

"You don't say so!" was the astonished rejoinder.

"Yes. But I must admit there is one thing you never found fault with."

"What is that?"

"The way I look when I wear my last year's clothes."—Washington Star.

Cruel Punishment.

"Well, my son, first catch your wasp; then, if it stings you, it's a female; but if it doesn't, then it's a male."—N. Y. Journal.

No Admirer.

His City Niece (visiting the farm)—O, uncle! Here come a lot of wheelmen pedaling down the road.

Uncle Josh—Peddlin', eh? Waal, I'm mighty glad them fellers has found somethin' useful to do!—Truth.

Concerning the "Willard Heights" Proposition.

The whole thing in a nut shell; you are asked to contract for the purchase of a lot, on condition that an institution is established by the National W. C. T. U. at "Forest Home."

If this institution is established the lot is worth more than you agree to pay for it.

If it is not established you have not bought a lot, and every cent of your money will be faithfully returned to you.

If two hundred lots are sold at an average price of $200 each, the establishment of the institution is assured.

THE SHIRT MY FATHER WORE.

[From the Chronicle.]

My father bought an undershirt
Of bright and flaming red—
"All-wool," I'm ready to assert,
"Fleece dyed," the merchant said.
"Your size is thirty-eight, I think,
And forty you should get,
Since all wool goods are bound to shrink
A trifle when they're wet."

That shirt two weeks my father wore—
Two washings, that was all—
From forty down to thirty-four
It shrank like leaf in fall.
I wore it then a day or two,
But when 'twas washed again
My wife said: "Now 'twill only do
For little brother Ben,"

A fortnight Ben squeezed into it,
At last he said it hurt—
We put it on our babe—the fit
Was good as any shirt
We never will wash it more while yet
We see its flickering light,
For if again that shirt is wet
'Twill vanish from our sight.

We are agents for the JAROS. Cannot shrink. Fits like a glove. You can get along without an overcoat. You can keep well without Jaros Hygienic Underwear, but it isn't so easy.

TWO BOLD THIEVES CAUGHT AT WORK

PROFESSIONAL BURGLARS AT C. S. JACKMAN'S HOME.

Mrs. Jackman and Mrs. J. M. Hanchett Surprised Them and the Latter Grappled With one of the Robbers —Got But Little Booty and Escaped In Safety.

Mrs. C. S. Jackman and Mrs. J. M. Hanchett had an exciting experienee with professional burglars at 6 o'clock Sunday evening, during which Mrs. Hanchett bravely seized one of the thieves and endeavored to hold him until help came.

There was no one at home when the two thieves entered the residence. They are thought to have watched the house from across the street and made the raid after they had seen the members of the household leave. It was a few minutes before 6 when Mrs. Jackman and Mrs. Hanchett returned from the home of a neighbor.

The first thing that Mrs. Jackman noticed was a flickering light in one of the upstairs rooms. She opened the door with the latch key and stepping to the stairway asked who was there.

Grabbed the Thief.

Her answer came when two men bounded down the steps. One of them mumbled something as he passed Mrs. Jackman, but she did not know what he said. Mrs. Hanchett was still outside the front door, and as the thief passed her, she seized him. It did not take much exertion on his part to break her hold, and the two men then ran across the street and disappeared in the court house park.

Mrs. Hanchett's call for the police had alarmed the neighbors, and Dr. Judd and others hastened to the Jackman home, while a telephone message was sent to the jail. The sheriff was soon on the scene and pronounced the work that of professionals. Chief Acheson was also notified, and said that the job was similar to the one done at Oshkosh recently, and that it was not at all improbable that it was the work of the same gang. No trace of the men has been found.

Broke the Plate Glass.

The plate glass in the door had been broken, thereby allowing the robbers to reach in and turn the key in the lock. The servant girl said that two men watched her leave the house, and as the indicator on the door bell showed that it had been rung, the thieves probably smashed the glass when no response came to the bell, and they knew no one was in the house.

Once inside they lighted a candle, and with one of Frank H. Jackman's Derby hats as a screen to keep the light from being seen from the outside, they began their search. They secured Mrs. Hanchett's purse, containing $20 in cash and a draft for $64, as well as her gold watch. Another purse containing a dollar or two was also taken but when Mrs. Hanchett seized the thief he tossed her pocket book out on the lawn where it was afterwards found.

Got Little Booty.

The raid was not a renumerative one, as the only booty secured was the pocket book containing a little change and Mrs. Hanchett's watch, which, while valuable because of its association, was not worth over ten or twelve dollars to a burglar. Mr. Jackman was on his way home at the time while the thieves were at work, but seeing no light in the house, stopped at the home of W. G. Wheeler. If he had gone straight home he would have heen there in time to have taken a hand in the fun.

Neighbors said that a horse and buggy stood across the street for some time before the job was done, but whether or not the rig belonged to the men was not known.

H. GOULDING IN JAIL IN DEFAULT OF BAIL

CHARGE AGAINST HIM IS A SERIOUS ONE.

Attempted Murder Is the Allegation and His Bonds Were Placed At $3,000, Which He Could Not Secure—Case Comes Before Judge Phelps on Wednesday.

Harry Goulding, the man with whom Mrs. George VanEtta is said to have eloped is now in the county jail on the charge of having attempted to kill the members of the family by turning on the gas in the house, while the others were asleep.

Goulding was taken before Judge Phelps of the municipal court this morning and the complaint charging him with an attempt to commit murder was read. He made no answer thereto and in default of $3000 bail he was taken back to jail. The case will come up again on Nov. 6 at 9 o'clock in the forencon, the matter being adjourned until that time by consent of the parties. The complaint against Goulding was made by A. O. Vincent, the father of the Mrs. VanEtta and Goulding was arrested in Chicago by Sheriff Appleby and Officer Hogan on Saturday.

Denies the Charge

Goulding denies the charge, and says that he did not hypnotize Mrs. Van Etta. He says that he will make it hot for some one before the thing is through with. Sheriff Appleby and Officer Hogan arrived home with him Saturday night. A dispatch to the Chicago Chronicle of this morning, puts the present standing of the case as follows:

"Harry Goulding, the coachman with whom Mrs. George VanEtta is said to have eloped, was arrested in Chicago yesterday by Sheriff Appleby and Officer Hogan, charged wi h attempting to murder members of the family by turning on the gas in their rooms while they were asleep. The officers arrived home with their prisoner last night and he is now in jail here. He will be taken into court tomorrow, and says he will make it hot for those responsible for his arrest.

Denies the Charge.

"He denies the charge, and says he possesses no hypnotic power, as Van Etta claimed. Although Mrs. Van Etta in an interview denied that she left Janesville with Goulding, the officers say she did. They say the couple met by appointment; that a hackman was hired to take them to Milton by a circuitous route, and that at that village Goulding bought a ticket to Waukesha, while Mrs. Van Etta purchased one for Milwaukee.

"They were together in Chicago, or at least knew each other's whereabouts, for after Goulding had been arrested the sheriff went to the Palmer house with Goulding to keep an appointment with Mrs. Van Etta, this being after Mr. Van Etta had reached Chicago to bring his wife home.

Laughed At the Story.

"Mrs. VanEtta and her husband have patched up their differences, and are expected home tonight. The conciliation is said to have been made only after VanEtta had bought $1,000 worth of jewelry, etc., for his wife. The "hypnotism" story and Mrs. VanEtta's claim that the whole thing is a mistake are laughed at by the police and Janesville people in general. That she might have been teaching her husband a lesson is admitted, but that she went away with Goulding cannot, the police say, be denied.

"The case against Goulding is not thought to be a very strong one, although enough evidence was produced to secure a warrant of Judge Phelps of the municipal court. A. O. Vincent, Mrs. VanEtta's father, made the complaint."

NEATH THE HEAVY HAND OF DEATH

Mrs. John C. Jenkins.

Mrs. John C. Jenkins died last evening at 9:15 o'clock, after a long illnes. Mrs. Jenkins was in her sixty-eighth year and was one of the older residents of the city. The funeral will be held trom the house at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

To Please a Lady

In our business you must make sure the shoes not only look well but fit perfectly. If you can give her a shoe that combines both qualities from the start she is sure to come back. Our special $2.50 dongola kid shoe with the slipper fox makes us friends among the ladies, many of them, and they are the kind that come again too. That $2.50 lady's shoe cannot be duplicated. The stock and quality make it a high priced shoe for little money. Richardson Shoe Co.

A man may dress as well as as his own good judgement and the assistance of an artistic tailor may elect. He may take his "tubs" but if his digestive organs are out of order, he will have an unwholesome appearance. His complexion and the white of his eyes will have a yellowish cast. His tongue will be coated, appetite poor, his teeth rusty, his breath abominable. He is one big, unmistakable sign of constipation.

The quickest, surest, easiest way is to take Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. Nothing in the least harmful enters into their composition. They hunt down all impurities, and "make them move on." They are the product of many years' study and practice. Doctor Pierce cannot afford to put forth a worthless article. Send for a free sample.

T. M. MATTHEWS FELL AND BROKE HIS LEG

WELL KNOWN BARBER PAINFULLY HURT TODEY.

He Was Measuring the Ceiling For Some New Decorations, When the Ladder Slid Out From Under Him—Brakeman Harry Cator Has a Hand Crushed.

Thomas M. Matthews fell from an eight foot ladder this afternoon, breaking the large bone of his right leg. The accident happened at 2 o'clock at the barber shop of Reynold & Matthews. A new wood ceiling is being put in the shop, and measurements for the same were being taken. Mr. Matthews was standing on the top of the ladder, when it slipped to one side. He tried to catch himself, but could not and fell to the floor. His leg pained him greatly and when Dr. Hugh Menzies arrived he found that the large bone had been broken near the ankle. The sufferer was at once taken to his home 117 Milton avenue, where he is now resting as comfortably as can be expected.

WHILE John Goodman, the ten year old son of M. Goodman, was cutting wood Saturday afternoon, the ax slipped and cut a gash in his head. Dr. E. F. Woods dressed the injury.

Harry Cator had his right hand crushed between the bumpers at 8 o'clock last evening. Mr. Cator works for the Northwestern road and resides at 213 West Bluff street. The freight train on which he was brakeman uncoupled at the Academy street crossing to make way for the street cars, and in re-coupling Cator caught his hand, crushing it badly. Dr. Woods, the company's surgeon, was called and hopes to save the hand.

ALL SOULS, The People's Church

An Evangelical Church in the True Sense.

Evangelical because we have an evangel, i. e. a gospel, a word of cheer and hope, for all mankind.

So far as the doctrines of Atonement, vicarious or otherwise, are concerned we are as free to consider and profess such doctrines as any.

"All Souls" is in no sense opposed to those who call themselves "orthodox" nor to those who are called "hetrodox." What we want is that men and women shall give their hearts and lives to the service of whatsoever is true and good and beautiful.

No one is so "conservative" or so "radical as not to find a hearty welcome to the freedom and fellowship of this church,

SACRIFICE TO HIS STATE.

Gov. Brown Sells His Homestead at Less Than Half Its Value.

Springfield, the homestead of Gov. Frank Brown, in Carroll county, near Sykesville, Maryland, has been agreed upon by the Board of Managers of the second Hospital for the Insane of the State of Maryland as the site for the new hospital, to be erected under the act of 1894, appropriating $75,000 for a site and buildings and $25,000 as a maintenance fund. The purchase price is $50,000. The area required is 530 acres or more, including the historic old Patterson mansion and other buildings, which, it is estimated, could not not be duplicated for less than $100,000. The buildings include the Patterson mansion, another spacious dwelling, with all outbuildings, granaries, greenhouses, and barns, which are supplied with water from a stone reservoir on the property. The roads through the property are all macadamized, and the estate is thoroughly fenced with post and rail fence. The property was formerly owned by George Patterson, deceased, uncle of Gov. Brown, who was lavish in his expenditures, and made the property what he termed it, "a sheet of living green." It is one of the finest estates in Maryland, and, perhaps, in the country. Gov. Brown said that nothing would have induced him to dispose of the property, but the recent death of Mrs. Brown, which, in a large measure, broke up his plans for the future. Springfield is one of the historic estates of Maryland. Over the soft lawns and in the picturesque woodland walks once strolled Elizabeth Patterson, wife of Jerome Bonaparte, who was the daughter of William Patterson, and a Maryland belle in the present century's early years. From Springfield's doors she rode on horseback to Baltimore to attend the party where she first met the young naval officer who afterwards became the King of Westphalia.

Abstainers from Meat.

A vegetarian diet does not mean living on cabbage, turnips, carrots, and potatoes, but simply abstaining from the flesh of birds, beasts and fishes. Bread, fruits, nuts, peas, beans, and the various grains form a diet unrivaled for the production of health, strength, and happiness, while, with the addition of eggs, milk, butter and cheese, a vast variety of dishes can be prepared suitable for every constitution or condition of life. Vegetarians having good digestions and clear consciences are always cheerful and happy—no pessimists among them.

Everybody Marries in the Fiji Islands.

An unmarried man or woman of marriageable age is something that is rarely seen in the Fiji Islands. The reason of this is not far to seek. The natives believe that if a person dies while in an unmarried state his or her soul is doomed to wander about through the endless ages of eternity in an intermediate region between heaven and hades. At the end of each moon they are allowed to look into heaven, but are never permitted to enter.

BURIALS.

When thou hast conquered in thine errant heart
Evil desires, base passions bold or sly,
Fighting them till to death at last they yield,
Then bid oblivion bury them apart
From all thy future and so let them lie
In their own ignominious potter's field!

But when sweet aims and acts that now control
Moods of warm human pity and helpful care
Cease from thy days, by full achievement crowned,
Bid memory build for these within thy soul
A mausoleum of majesty as fair
As any in earthly sculpture to be found!
—Edgar Fawcett in Youth's Companion.

THE PAINTER.

Of course it was very wrong of her, for we all know that you should not talk to gentlemen who have not been introduced to you. But when you are sweet and 20 and are staying at a country house all alone and are rather bored, and a handsome young man comes to your rescue in a wood, when your poor little dog has caught its foot in a cruel trap, how can you possibly pass him by the very next day as if he were a stranger? And he was so kind to the dog! He bound up its poor little bleeding foot in his handkerchief and carried it in his arms to the lodge gate. Then he said:

"Do you often walk in the wood?"

She was feeling too grateful to him to resent his impertinence as she should have done. So she only said, "Some times," and thanked him again with all her heart in her pretty eyes.

He looked up to where, through the trees, the big red house showed its twisted, old fashioned chimneys and said:

"My name is Lavender. You are Miss Verinder, I suppose?"

She looked at him quickly.

"I am Miss Verinder's humble companion. My name is Smith."

"We are comrades in servitude," he said. "I am Lord Halibut's secretary. You walk in the woods sometimes. Then it isn't goodby. Do they let you come out often?"

"I am my own mistress at present," she said. "A lot of people will be coming down on the 25th for the heiress' coming of age. They give a grand entertainment to the tenants. Lord Halibut is to be there. What is he like?"

"Oh!" said the young man indifferently, "he's not a bad sort of fellow. There's some talk of their families wishing him to marry the heiress. The estates go very well together. But he's never even seen her. He's been so much abroad, you know."

"I don't believe the heiress will have him," the girl said sharply and turned away with her poor little dog in her arms.

Now, it is quite clear that she ought not to have walked in the wood—at least, not so soon as the next day, or if she walked there the next day she ought not to have chosen the very hour when poor Troll had met with his misfortune. But to the bored much may be pardoned, and, as for Lord Halibut's secretary, he had a right, one may suppose, to amuse himself. And that meeting was not the last. How could it have been? And when you meet a person every day without chaperons or other tiresome people you soon make friends. Before the week was out Mr. Lavender had heard how Miss Smith was left an orphan and had to earn her living, and she had learned that Mr. Lavender's part in life must always be that of a subordinate.

"Is she kind to you?" he asked one evening as they sat on a mossed tree trunk and watched the red sunset across the valley where the corn grew.

"Oh, yes, she's kind enough," the girl said. "At least I am sure she means to be."

"She's revoltingly clever, I hear. Beat the senior wrangler at Cambridge, or something."

"She did. But that's not criminal, and Lord Halibut is at least her partner in iniquity. He took a first class in greats, didn't he? Oh, how I do hate clever men!"

"You have my sympathy. I abhor clever women!"

They both laughed. And the days went on, and July melted into August, and August grew in grace, till the time came near for the coming of age of Miss Verinder, and if during these days there had been a hand pressure so slight as not to be worth resenting, or a look so nearly tender as to make a man's heart beat high with hope; if he had treasured the forgetmenots she gathered by the woodland pond and pressed them in the volume of Browning from which he had read to her in the woods, and if she kept a certain handkerchief, stained with poor little Troll's blood, in a locked sandalwood box, and took it out and laid it against her face, for all its blood stain, when no one else was by—all that concerned only the companion and the secretary, and no one else in all the wide world.

* * * * * *

It was bright noontide, and they walked through the woods, and presently they came to the wishing tree, with its two trunks growing from one root.

"If we pass through the wishing tree," she said, "and wish as we go, the fairies will give us the wish of our hearts."

So they went through, hand in hand, because the way was rough. As she passed out of it a bramble caught her dress, and he stooped to disentangle it, but the folds of her gown were electric, and his hands trembled.

"How tiresome it is!" she said. "I believe that bramble will never let me go."

"Can you blame it?" he asked, looking up at her, and she turned her face away. They walked on. "A whole month," he said, "and seeing you every day! When did such good fortune ever before come to a poor secretary?"

"Or to a humble companion? No, I don't mean that. But it has been pleasant."

They walked in silence to the little gate that divided the woods from the grounds. Here they stopped, and she said, looking at him for a moment half shyly, half proudly: "Come in. I should like you to see the garden. All the smart people are coming tomorrow to keep the heiress' birthday."

He hesitated, and she laughed. "Oh, we needn't go in sight of the house. The grounds are big enough."

He flushed and stammered in wordless denial of the thought she had read in him that his being seen with the companion might compromise her, and together they walked under the arching trees to the old lawn where the sundial stands.

"This is where the tenants dance, I believe," she said, "and all the grand people dance with the cottager folks, which seems to me rather silly, for I am sure each set would rather dance with themselves. Lord Halibut is coming. Will you be here?"

"I shall certainly come if Lord Halibut does. May I dance with you?"

She laughed. "I don't think you know what dancing on turf is like. Besides probably our steps don't suit."

"Let us try now," he said.

He laid his arm on her waist. The next moment her hand was on his arm, and they were whirling down the lawn toward the sundial.

"What foolish people we are!" she said breathlessly, and half moved to pause. But his arm held her closer, and they waltzed to the end of the lawn, past the sundial and into the shade of the great copper beech, and there, before she had time to move her hand from his arm, both his arms were round her, and he was raining kisses on her soft, flushed cheek. She shrank a little, and then laid her face softly against his, and put her hand up to his neck.

"Ah!" he said, "the wish is granted. I have my heart's desire."

"And I," she whispered softly.

"You do love me, don't you?"

She clasped her hands behind his neck and hung back, looking at him at arm's length, with half ashamed, half laughing eyes.

"Oh, yes, I love you, Lord Halibut," she said.

He put his hands up and laid them on hers. "Then you know?"

She laughed again. "I have known all the time. Your handkerchief at least was not ashamed of your name."

Not one thought that was traitor to his love for her stirred in him at her confession. Lord Halibut knew true love when he saw it.

"Why did you deceive me?" she asked.

"Oh, the landscape painter idea, I suppose!" he said. "The Lord of Burleigh, and that sort of thing!"

She laughed once more. "The worst of it is," she said, "that I have a vow in heaven never to marry Lord Halibut."

"Surely Lord Halibut can absolve you from that if any one can!"

"I am glad you think so, for you have a vow—somewhere or other—not to marry Miss Verinder, and you, too, will need absolution. Take it from me"—

"Then you are—you are not Miss Smith?"

Her dainty chin went up. "Now, do I look like it?" she said.

"But why"—

"The landscape painter's part," she answered, "seems to be universally attractive!"—Sketch.

The Poets and Sunshine

One might fancy that there is some natural affinity between genius and the sun, seeing that so many gifted ones are attracted in such a peculiar manner to the source of light and heat. Shelley loved to expose his small round head to its intensest ardor and indited many of his burning strains on the roof of his house, near Leghorn, unscreened from the pelting rays of an Italian sun—that sun from whose supposed malign influence even the natives shrink. Byron, whose early home was in the bleak north of Scotland, was no less of a sun worshiper. "I am always most religious upon a sunshiny day," he writes, "as if there was some association between an internal approach to greater light and purity and the kindler of this dark lantern of our external existence." And elsewhere he declares that he could "bear cold no better than an antelope and never yet found a sun quite done to his taste," in full accord with Coleridge's saying, uttered, however, in a symbolical sense, that "the poet's soul appears to crave the sunshine."

It is as by some passionate impulse of affection that our men of genius are attracted toward the sunny south, many of them being apparently more at home beneath the clear blue skies of Italy or Spain than under their native clouds. Venice has won a luster the more from the devotion of Robert Browning, while the memory of his wife has shed an added grace on Florence. The names of Keats, Leigh Hunt and Landor are associated almost as closely with Italia's image as those of her own immortals.—Temple Bar.

"HELP!"

A WOMAN'S DESPAIRING CRY.

It is Heard. A Prominent Actress Escapes Great Danger.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

How startling is a woman's cry for help!

"What can I do? Where shall I go?" She knows not. This cry goes out today from every city, town, and hamlet in this country.

It comes from women who are suffering tortures of body and mind from some form of female complaint. Many, through natural modesty, do not consult physicians, for many dread their examinations. They know not where to seek for help.

This alarming condition of things is simply wrong. The peculiar ailments of women are curable, and in most cases very speedily. Lydia E. Pinkham's genius and liberality have given to every woman a sure and consistent means of relief.

No woman should suffer when she can obtain free advice. She can state her case fully to Mrs. Pinkham, woman to woman, without reserve, and the answer will come from one of her own sex. Be one of the vast army of women who write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and preserve your health. "Only a woman can understand a woman's ills."

A prominent actress, in a letter to Mrs. Pinkham, says:—

"... You cannot imagine the fearful condition I was in when I first wrote to you. I was simply of no use to myself or any one else. I had worked hard, and my nervous system was shattered from womb trouble and travelling constantly. I ran the gauntlet of doctors' theories, till my health and money were rapidly vanishing. ... I'm all right now, and am gaining flesh daily. I follow your advice faithfully in everything. Thank you ten thousand times for what your knowledge and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me."

You Take No Chances . . .

Neither do you run against a lottery in buying Dry Goods at this store. The month of October shows the record of a great business month,---a thirty days in which was concentrated the largest business ever done by this store during any corresponding month in past years. Popular prices upon popular goods is a combination strong enough in itself to neither require a game of guess nor the uncertain elements of a lottery to push it along. Some merchants bid for patronage one way, some another; one man gives you your chromo and the next one the frame, both, by the way, gems (?) of the first water. To the shrewd trader such wiles are a snare and a delusion, and the economical woman buys her goods where she knows she can do the best. (There are hundreds of them who know that this statement applies particularly to this store.)

Cloaks just now make about the liveliest selling you can imagine; such taking styles; at prices likewise.

ARCHIE REID & CO.

TAX NOTICE.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, } ss
COUNTY OF ROCK }

City Treasurer's Office, Janesville, Wis., Oct. 21, 1895.

To Whom It May Concern:

I hereby give notice that I intend to make application to the circuit court for the county of Rock, on the first day of the next term thereof, to be held in the court room in the city of Janesville, on the 6th day of November, 1895, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day or as soon thereafter as the same can be heard, for a judgment against the several lots, lands, pieces and parcels of lands described in a report then and there to be made and filed with the clerk of said court, for the unpaid city taxes levied by the common council of the city of Janesville for the year 1895, and all persons interested therein are requested to attend such term of said court and offer their defense, if any they may have, to such application.

JAS. A. FATHERS,
Treasurer of the City of Janesville.

NOTICE is hereby given that proposals to receive the county funds on deposit for one year from the first day of January, 1896, will be received by the county clerk of Rock county at his office in the city of Janesville, up to twelve o'clock m., on the 11th day of November, 1895.

Proposals shall state the rate of interest the bidder will pay on daily balances, the interest to be computed and credited to the county at the end of each month and on condition that such deposits and accrued interest shall be held subject to draft and payable at all times on demand.

W. J. M'INTYRE, County Clerk.

A. H. HAWKINS, Prop.

JANESVILLE, WIS., Nov. 4—The weather forecast for the next twenty-four hours is showers tonight, snow Tuesday and much colder.

IT WAS A KEEN JUDGE OF HUMAN NATURE WHO ONCE SAID:

"You can fool some of the people all the time and all the people part of the time; but you can't fool all the people all the time."

A few people are fooled with cheap Clothing from choice, others because they are misled by misrepresentation, but the great majority of people look for themselves. It is not strange that people get fooled while the atmosphere is so heavily charged with exaggeration. It is well to remember, however, when you read clothing advertisements, who the honest advertisers are. We labor to make our advertisements plain, strong as the facts demand, but never over-stated. We are simply telling the plain, unvarnished truth when we state our

"GOOD LUCK" SUITS AT $6.50, $8.00 AND $10.00!

are the best you ever saw at the price. These suits are stricty all-wool, cut. trimmed and put together in the latest, most approved, myst artistic and most substantial manner; both Single and DoubleBreast Sacks. some black, some blue, some fancy colors. If you will look at them you caunot possibly turn away dissatisfied. Look at every store in town first if you will; but be sure and see our "Good Luck" Suits before you buy.

We sell a bettet grade of NATURAL WOOL UNDERWEAR AT 75c.

than you can purchase elsewhere at $1.00. We know this to be a fact because we have sold between fifty and sixty dozens of this one style since we advertised it about ten days ago We received twenty-five dozen more Shirts and Drawers Saturday which will be on sale today at same price. People look around usally before they buy Underwear. If our Natural Wool at 75c wasn't better than they could find anywhere else, we could not truthfully say that up to the present time we have sold a greater amount of Underwear than during any full season for the past ten years. Call for our No. 1411 Natural Wool and don't buy a piece of Underwear until you have seen this number.

We Sell Children's Leather Leggins at $2.00 and
The Heavy Brown Duck Leggins at $1.00.
